

ACS CONTACT DETAILS

Advanced Cleaning Services (ACS) is revolutionising contract cleaning for the food industry by offering a unique approach to professional service when it comes to cleaning food manufacturing operations, industrial kitchens, and food handling operations.

Our programmes are totally flexible and designed to match the clients' needs and budgets. ACS makes use of qualified food technologists to inspect and manage their sites. The company is aware that an inefficient cleaning programme can affect their client's GMPs and quality of product. ACS designs a customised Master Cleaning Schedule which enables companies to implement a controlled and accurate account of day-to-day cleaning of their sites. The documented programmes on the cleaning system, methods, chemicals, and equipment used is designed to fit into our clients' HACCP and quality control programmes.
